

Banking and Finance

We have represented lenders in billions of dollars of commercial loan closings. We have handled virtually every kind of financing for our non-bank clients. The only type of financing we do not handle is consumer residential real estate.

Representative matters include acquisition, development and construction real estate financing, C&I and ABL financing, ESOP financing, vessel financing, industrial and waterfront financing, including shipyards and terminals, and lease financing. We have extensive experience with loans with commercial banks and conduit lenders, recourse and non-recourse loans, and virtually every kind of collateral and security interest.

The Banking & Finance team at Vandeventer Black is seasoned in a broad spectrum of business and legal issues facing the industry today. Overlap in experience with our Creditor's Rights attorneys and our Virginia, North Carolina, and California attorneys and access to Vandeventer Black's other practice areas give us unique ability to advise lenders and borrowers.
